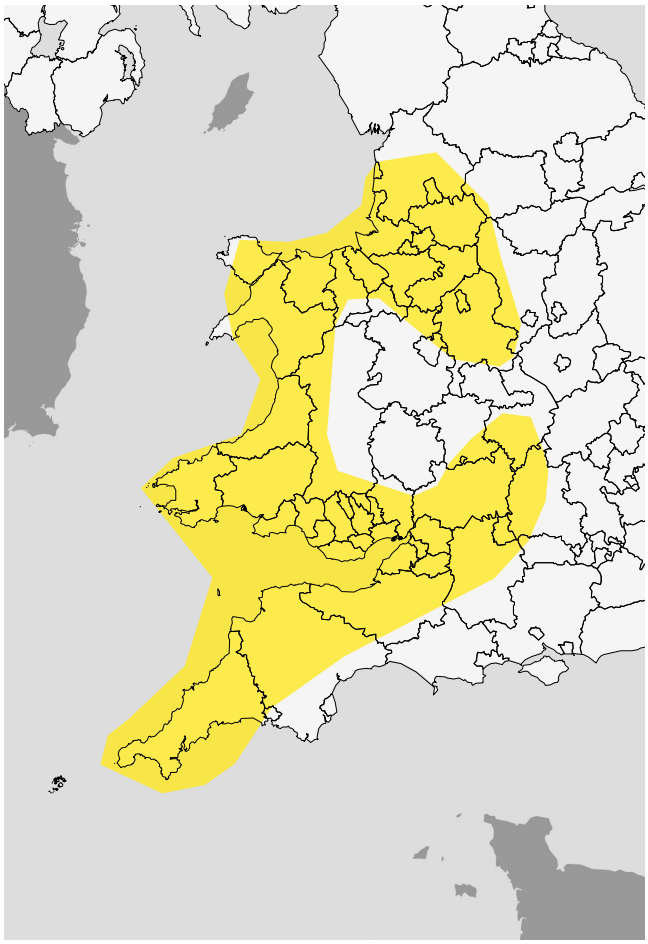
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
16:00 Thu 8 Dec 2022 and
12:00 Sun 11 Dec 2022



Some disruption is likely due to icy surfaces, with snowfall in a few places.

What to expect

- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths
- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- In a few areas, difficult travel conditions may occur quite quickly due to heavy sleet, snow or hail showers making surfaces slippery or even snow-covered

Further details

Frequent wintry showers are likely to fall onto frozen surfaces in places, leading to the formation of icy patches. These showers are expected to fall as snow on high ground, with the potential for several centimetres to accumulate, especially over the high ground of north Wales but the odd few centimetres may fall at lower levels too.

Reason for update

Warning area has been expanded into parts of southern England and south Midlands where an area of snow is expected to persist through the rest of this morning.

Medium likelihood of low impacts
